International Fruit Company

Our Quality Promise

About Us:

International Fruit Company, also widely known as IFC, is proud to have a deep integration with each step of the fruit's journey. Growing, packing, and shipping of the produce allow IFC to have a hand in quality control and provide a consistently high-quality product. We personally oversee all growing and packing of our produce at the source. Our core values of Food Safety, Integrity, and responsibility combined with our experienced team serve as a foundation for our success. These values guide our everyday activities towards leading an ethical, sustainable and enjoyable relationships with our partners.
